SCENERY

Between the two leading tourist cities of Vietnam is Hue and Da Nang, Lang Co is lurked in its own unique beauty because of its own special natural terrain. Lang Co is a sandy peninsula overhanging the bay with its nose nearly touching Hai Van Pass, leaving only a small creek just enough for boats to enter the Lap An lagoon. On one side is the bay, and the other side is covered by the Bach Ma Mountain range - where the national park resides thus making the Lang Co climate cool, pleasant, and completely filled with fresh air.

Lang Co Bay is the 30th member of the world's most beautiful bays club since 2009. Immersing into Lang Co Bay is a pleasant and enjoyable experience. The smooth sand stretches out so that visitors play with large waves without fear of sinking. Dropping their bodies in the clear blue water jade, tourists enjoy to see the clouds across the Hai Van rift.

The Lang Co landscape attracts a series of middle and high-end resorts. However, Lang Co Bay still has unspoiled golden sand beaches that can be said to be uninhabited, until the first Lang Co Luxury Beach Resort has been exploited.

Not only is this the ideal place to relax and enjoy nature, Lang Co also has a lagoon, as well as beautiful and extremely romantic coastal roads for active travelers to explore. The two sides of the road have green fields filled with buffalo's grazing on grass, paddies with garden-fresh vegetables and peaceful roofs hidden behind the green grove. People of this land are very kind-hearted and friendly.

The Trinh To Tam romantic roads along Lap An lagoon bring you the two unique landscapes of Lang Co: Hoi Mit and Hoi Dua streams (less than 20 km from the center of the town). You have to spend at least half a day at each of these locations, but you will be able to explore all the rich and varied scenery along the way upstream. From the mountain, the flow of water mixed with the flow of boulders can make the scenery extremely spectacular. Not only watching, visitors can also immerse their whole body into the natural jacuzzi or into the flow of massaging water for hours. At the foot of the streams, there are local shacks offering lodges and serving local specialties.

It is true that the sea-sky harmony, and the yin-yang convergence have bestowed on Lang Co a new landscape of diversity and abundant exposition. Lang Co Nature contains many things of interest waiting for you to discover.

LANG CO - HAI VAN WHERE THE SEA AND MOUNTAINS RECONCILE

LAP AN

*the mirror reflecting Lang Co beauty

Imagine Lang Co town sprouts from a sandbank that protrudes into the bay. Sand dunes are also the natural boundaries between Lap An lagoon and the sea, but still leave a liquidation line. So the water in the pond is pure sea water. But unlike the sea, Lap An surface is as flat as a mirror, reflecting the beauty of Lang Co Mountain.

The broad range of over 1,600 ha, observed from any point on the shore as well as any time of the day, looks very charming. You can also go canoeing on the lagoon for sightseeing, watching fishermen scrambling to fish, rather than harvesting seafood. The tranquility and freshness of Lap An make the lake an ideal seafood farm. On the shore of the lake within the town there are many floating restaurants to pick up customers everywhere to enjoy the oysters, squid, blood cockle ... all fresh and tasty.

From the shores of the lagoon, visitors can wade for dozens of meters and the water line doesn't cross the knee. The bottom of the lagoon is completely covered by the white coral layer. In the clear water, if looking thoroughly, visitors can see small fish of all kinds while dipping the whole body through the transparent and blue water stream. With a peaceful, crystal clear mountain landscape, there is no place more ideal than Lap An Lagoon for seasons of relaxation and rest.

UNIQUE NAM O REEF

If this side of the Hai Van Pass is Lang Co, then the other side is Nam O reef - a picnic place quite familiar to Danang people but not to all newcomers.

In an area of only 2 hectares, Nam O Reef consists of a variety of terrain such as hills with green forest and two lovely beaches separated by a stone band. The unique beauty of Nam O reef is in this rocky spot. The rocks, with countless shapes, take visitors from surprise to amazement because of the innate creativity of nature. The rocky cliffs adjacent to the forest make up the orchard – a delicate stone of meditation. While the boulders adjoining the sea exhibit majesty due to the abrasive waves, guests can lay their back on stone sofas, stone beds, or soak in the natural Jacuzzi for massages. From the Nam O Reef it is possible to see the entire Son Tra Peninsula and Danang City, as well as part of Hai Van Mountain - the tail of Bach Ma Range.

Nam O Reef is a thriving fishing ground but has now been narrowed to pave the way for tourism. Some squid hunters are still present on this reef. On bright days with blue and clear sky, visitors can rent boats away to view coral reefs. Nam O reef adds to Danang, a beauty-filled landscape that visitors should not miss when they come to this beautiful seaside city.

Linh Ung Pagoda and the highest Buddhist statue in the country

Linh Ung Pagoda and the highest Buddhist statue in the country Da Nang has a highlight that can be seen from many places in the city, day and night. The statue of Buddha Guanyin is 67m high, making it the highest in Vietnam. Standing on a lotus throne with a diameter of 35m, facing the sea, one hand holding a jar of holy water, the other holding Prithvi Mudra as if it were offering good graces to all sentient beings. The diameter of the inside structure is 17m wide, divided into 17 floors. Each floor has the altar of 21 Buddha statues with different looks and posture. Upstairs, there is a stairway leading to the top of the statue's head. On the statue there is a 2-meter high Buddha statue. At night, the statue is highlighted on the city skyline. Besides spiritual meaning, the statue becomes an indispensable attraction to many visitors to Da Nang.

The statue of Guan Yin dwelling in Linh Ung Pagoda at the altitude of nearly 700m is always watching and protecting the city. In the main hall, Buddha Shakyamuni is worshiped in the middle, on the right side Buddha Guanyin, and on the left Buddha Bodhisattva. Three statues are all cast bronze. Along the pagoda grounds are two lines of 18 Arhats, which are lively religious symbols and very close to the Vietnamese culture. After six years of construction, Linh Ung Pagoda inaugurated in July 2010 and continues to be upgraded with new construction. The temple is also known as Linh Ung Bai Bui. In the nineteenth century, during Minh Mang Dynasty, Son Tra fishermen found the Buddha statue from nowhere washed into the sand. For a good omen, they set up the pagoda for worship. And then to the Buddha's grace, the sea became calm and quiet and fishermen since then do business in peace.

Because the location is very beautiful in terms of feng shui, visitors who come to worship Buddha also have the opportunity to enjoy a wide view over the totality of Da Nang. Linh Ung Son Tra has one side facing the sea, and Cham island, and the other side facing Hai Van mountain. The rest shows the harmonious Han River flowing to the sea. The river is a prominent city with buildings towering in the sun, Ngoc Hach Son Mountain, Non Nuoc beach are all caught into the visitors' eyes from this location.

DA NANG FIREWORK FESTIVAL

Da Nang Fireworks Festival (DIFF) was upgraded from Da Nang International Fireworks Show (DIFS). Instead of going on for 2-3 consecutive days as before, from 2017, the fireworks are held regularly over 2 months. The festival is held annually around May. Apart from the main activities are the fireworks performances of the teams from many countries in the Asian Park area. During this time, visitors also attend up to 24 festivals such as street dance festivals, dining spaces, the sea tourism festival, and parachute festival ... Along with an appreciation of the performances of water music and light art, flower boat parades, and float flower baskets, the organizer is expected to invite more famous art troupes from the countries participating in the fireworks show to perform for the festival, making it ever more colorful and amazing.

The “queen of primates”

Red-shanked douc, or red-tailed douc (or sometimes called costumed apes) are the different names for a beautiful and rare monkey that only lives on a tree. The hair of this species is very colorful. From knee to ankle the creature is a reddish-brown, its forearms covered with white gloves, and black hands and feet. They have a white beard and more often than not the males hair is denser than the females. Males have white patches on the buttocks and red and white genitals. With these unique characteristics, the five-color douc is recognized by World Society for the Protection of Animals as the “Queen of primates.” Danang People’s Committee has chosen this species as the image of the city, in anticipation of the APEC 2017 event that is going to take place.

The doucs are quite sharp. Photographers specializing in this species can reach within 3 meters of them. Visitors will be lucky to meet the “queen” if they are present in the area of their feeding during the period from 6h to 10h and from 15h30 to 18h daily. The doucs live in flocks and eat only plants. Visitors are advised not to lure nor feed wild animals including five-color langurs.

LANG CO CUISINE

Lang Co Cuisine - rustic, royal tastes

Lang Co is long known for fresh seafood. The ideal aquaculture pond is Lap An Lagoon, ensuring that seafood is always fresh.

Diners can enjoy seafood at the beachfront restaurants or floating restaurants in Lap An lagoon. It is best to order the simple dishes that retain the flavor of seafood, such as grilled, steamed, and hotpotted seafood. If you visit Hoi Dua stream without enjoying chopped and roasted chicken with lemongrass chili, you will surely regret it.
